

THE TARIFF DISCUSSION.

Southern Democrats Vote For the Rice Schedule.

A LIVELY SIDE DISCUSSION.

On the Omission of a Word From the Chicago Platform.

TARIFF FOR REVENUE "ONLY."

Washington, June 9.—Consideration of the tariff bill was resumed in the senate at 12:15 p. m. No mention was made as to the time of taking up the sugar schedule, and the debate proceeded on the agricultural schedule.

On the rice paragraph, Mr. Allison, in charge of the bill, withdrew the committee amendments reducing the house rates, thus leaving the house rates stand.

Mr. Mills (Texas), moved to strike out the entire rice paragraph and substitute a new one, placing a unit duty of 40 per cent. ad valorem on all grades of rice. Rejected; yeas, 19; nays, 40.

Five Democrats, Bacon, Clay, McNary, McLaurin and Tillman, and four Populists, Allen, Butler, Heitfield and Stewart, voted with the Republicans in the negative. The rice paragraph was then agreed to as it came from the House.

Rye and rye flour were agreed to as reported.

Paragraph 231 on tapioca had been struck out by the Senate.

On the question of agreeing on this change Mr. Rawlins (Utah) took the floor to answer Mr. Vest's statement yesterday that a "new evangel" of Democratic doctrine was being proclaimed by certain Democratic Senators. Mr. Rawlins said he had been a member of the committee on resolutions and platform at the Chicago convention, presenting that tariff clause that had been under discussion. It was on his motion it was agreed to.

Mr. Lindsay (Kentucky), platform in hand, interrupted to ask Mr. Rawlins, since he presented the tariff clause, why the good old Democratic word "only" after "tariff for revenue" came to be omitted. Was it an intentional omission, Mr. Lindsay asked.

"I think not," responded Mr. Rawlins.

"I can throw some light on that subject," said Mr. Tillman, who was also a member of the Committee on Platform at the Chicago convention. "It was omitted purposely after discussion."

Mr. Rawlins reviewed the course of the Democratic party in the early tariff legislation. The essential principle of this was that all burdens and benefits should be borne equally. This was no new evangel, no vile reptile or rattlesnake, as Mr. Vest had characterized it, and there was no need of any Democratic Senator invoking the Almighty against such doctrine. It came to Democratic Senators pure and unadorned from the Democratic fathers and he would support it.

Mr. Mills (Dem., Tex.) spoke on the general features of the bill. For two months, he said, the congressional committees had sought to adjust and re-adjust again the tariff law, in the interest of a monstrous trust fund which this bill is intended to raise. He came, he said, to speak for the "forgotten man," the taxpayer, from whose labor and sweat was to be wrung by legislative rapine this vast fund for distribution among favored beneficiaries. Here was a bill of confiscation, he declared, proposing to take the property of those who were not favored, the "forgotten man" who is laboring in the shops and fields. And yet, when an explanation was asked for the exorbitant rates of this bill, no answer was given, save: "What are you going to do about it?"

Mr. Mills warned those on the other side of the chamber to remember that Biblical injunction: "For all these things God will bring you into judgment." The process of framing this bill proceeded against the fundamental principle of the Anglo-Saxon doctrine, that every man shall have a hearing. But there was a tribunal whose doors were always open, and before that tribunal the projectors of this bill would be summoned. In 1890 a similar act had fallen like the bubonic plague on the country and the tribunal of the people had put the Republican party in quarantine.

Mr. Mills referred to the efforts at past Democratic National Conventions to lead it away from its fundamental opposition to a protective tariff and to make it "walk blindfolded into the Republican party as the advocate of class legislation." He spoke of the contest in the Democratic National Convention of 1892, over an unequivocal Democratic declaration on the tariff. Turning to the Democratic Senators who had voted yesterday for a duty on cotton, Mr. Mills showed how the delegation, Georgia, South Carolina and Utah, had supported unequivocal declarations in national conventions against a protective tariff.

TEA AND BEER AMENDMENTS.

Will Be Withdrawn Owing to Strong Opposition Against Them.

Washington, June 9.—The Republican members of the finance committee will withdraw the amendments for an additional tax on beer and for the duty of ten cents a pound on tea. In explanation of this a member of the finance committee said the pressure for withdrawal of these amendments has been very great, and that many Republican senators have made decided stands against them. The formal action of the committee on the subject has not been taken, but the determination has been reached. The members of the committee are still in doubt as to what shall be done with increases on tobacco in the internal revenue part of the bill, but there has been great pressure to have these taxes reduced. The question of revenue is giving the committee considerable concern, and if there should be a withdrawal of the increases on tobacco as well as those on beer and tea the bill would not meet the needs of the Government as a revenue producer. For this reason it has been practically determined to make a bank check stamp tax, and the question of additional revenue by means of a system of stamp taxes on beer has been under consideration. The committee is considering these questions and endeavoring to meet them as they proceed.

ROW AT EDDYVILLE.

Clerk Caulfield Refuses to Step Down and Out.

Warden Happy Issues Orders To Lock Him Out of the Prison.

Eddyville, June 9.—(Special to the Courier-Journal.)—J. M. Tinsley, the new clerk at the branch prison, came here yesterday from Frankfort in company with Inspector Lester. Mr. Lester brought with him what purported to be a copy of the record of the Board of Sinking Fund Commissioners in removing Caulfield, the former clerk, and electing Tinsley to succeed him. This record was signed only by Mr. Long, State Treasurer, and members of the Board of Sinking Fund Commissioners. Mr. Lester presented the papers to Caulfield and made in the name of Tinsley a final demand for the surrender of the office, books, papers, etc., with which Caulfield promptly refused to comply.

Warden Happy doubted the legality of the authority brought by the inspector, and declined to take forcible possession of the clerk's office until he could be assured from Frankfort that the record was all right. Secretary Finley wired Warden Happy today that the records were all right, and that papers properly signed by Auditor Stone as Secretary of the Board of Sinking Fund Commissioners had been forwarded to him by mail. On receipt of this message Warden Happy issued orders to his guards to lock Caulfield out of the prison and not to permit him to enter it again.

Tinsley will take charge of the clerk's office to-morrow morning. There may be further trouble to-morrow. Caulfield has possession of all the keys to the desks and the combination to the safe, but Capt. Happy is determined to oust him.

A WASHINGTON TRAGEDY.

Italian Shot Another's Wife and Then Killed Himself.

Washington, June 9.—A tragedy, in which the details were almost precisely similar to those of the Barber suicide and attempted murder, occurred this morning at 820 Fourteenth street, the home of Cherubino Giuliani an Italian fruit vendor. About 8 o'clock Taccopo Ferrari, father shooting and stabbing in the neck Mrs. Giuliani, shot himself through the head and died almost instantly. The woman was taken to the Emergency Hospital, where it is thought she may recover, though her first action upon arriving there was to call for a priest, from whom she received the last sacraments.

Taccopo Ferrari was about twenty-eight years old, and had been paying so much attention to Mrs. Giuliani, who is thirty-two, that he made himself offensive to both herself and her husband, and had been frequently warned not to visit Giuliani's home. This morning, the husband having gone to market, Ferrari walked through Giuliani's fruit store to the back yard where Mrs. Giuliani was hanging clothes on the line and made a furious assault upon her, stabbing her in the neck with a poniard and then revolving upon himself, and the bullet lodged in the brain, causing almost instant death.

PRESIDENT McKINLEY

Will Be Urged to Spend a Night at Frankfort.

Frankfort, June 10.—A strong effort will be made to induce President McKinley to spend a night here on his way to Louisville from the exposition. Strong hopes are entertained that the effort will succeed and preparations are being made for his entertainment in the event of his acceptance of the hospitality tendered.

DISASTROUS WRECK.

Rear End Collision on the Illinois Central at Bradford, Tenn.

FIVE MEN BADLY HURT.

Plague and Famine Devastating Portions of China.

THEODORE DURRANT GETS A REPRIEVE.

There was a destructive and fatal wreck at Bradford, Tenn., today on the Illinois Central railroad.

It was a rear-end collision of two freight trains. Five men were buried under the stack of burning cars, and three trainmen were fatally hurt, and three others seriously mangled. Bradford is near Russell, Tenn., a small station on the Cairo and Jackson, Tenn., division, and is just above Milan.

It is not on this division, and consequently little was known of it by local dispatchers.

PLAGUE IN CHINA.

Combined with Famine it is Killing Thousands.

Hong Kong, June 10.—A large district in the interior plague and famine are raging, according to news received here and thousands are dying as a result.

DURRANT GETS A REPRIEVE.

His Execution Deferred Until July 10.

San Francisco, June 10.—To the surprise of everybody, even of Durrant himself, the attorneys of Theodore Durrant have succeeded in getting a reprieve for him till July 10 next. Whether the reprieve betokens a possible commutation of sentence is a question that is agitating the public mind.

WILL NOT ACCEPT.

Gen. Cox Does Not Want to be Minister to Spain.

Cincinnati, O., June 9.—A report that Gen. Joseph D. Cox tonight accepted the offer of appointment as Minister from the United States to Spain? Gen. Cox answered promptly: "I am not."

He then stated that he had received no official notice of this offer, but had been semi-officially informed that the offer would be made if he desired the place. Through this intermediary he thanked President McKinley for the compliment and gave his reasons for declining. His principal reasons are that he has for several years been engaged in literary work, that will take several years to complete, and he can not afford to abandon it. Furthermore, the position offered imposes great responsibility and labor at this time. But this is a minor reason. Gen. Cox has been offered a professorship in the law department of Cincinnati University, which he will decline for the same chief reasons.

RITTER RETURNS.

Carried Back to Chicago to Stand Trial.

Detective Elliott Thinks He Will Be Given About Fifteen Years.

Ira B. Ritter, the fugitive ex-convict wanted at Chicago, was taken home today by Detective D. H. Elliott, of the Chicago force.

Ritter, who protests his innocence, is denounced by the detective as one of the shrewdest and most unscrupulous thieves in America. He is wanted for stealing money, household goods and other things from Mrs. Eliza Thomas, a widow, even going so far as to have all her household goods hauled off while she was away from home. This was in 1895, and Ritter left on June 5th of that year, and had never been heard of by the Chicago authorities until his arrest here. The woman who came here with him is his wife, and to her is charged his downfall.

Ritter is said to be wanted at about a dozen other places in Illinois, but the detective thinks he will get a term of about fifteen years at Chicago.

Detective Elliott left at noon with Ritter. Ritter was pretty sore at everybody, especially the newspapers. He does not seem to resent what has been said about him as much as what has been said about his wife. He says the papers have not had a dozen words to say about him that were true, but the detective, who is perhaps as reliable, says differently. Detective Elliott was vastly pleased with the treatment accorded him by the officers of Paducah. He said he was told before he came here that Paducah was uncivilized and a decent place to eat and sleep could not be found. He was agreeably surprised. Marshal Collins donned his Sunday attire and showed the Illinois officer all over the city. When he left he had very pleasant memories of his brief stay, and several bottles of as fine samples of Kentucky's product as could be found.

MOONSHINERS RETREAT.

Visited By Revenue Officer Fergusson and Others.

District Revenue Collector Mac Fergusson, Ganger Kesterson, of the city; Burton, of Lebanon; DeHaven, of Owensboro, and Dyer, of Henderson, went down into Calloway county a day or two since to break up an illicit still operated by a man named Green.

The government officers had the promise of a guide, but he failed to show up. They then started out themselves, and finally located the "worm," in a cave on Blood river, three miles from the village of Faxon. It, together with about twenty tubs and 2500 gallons of mash, were destroyed.

Green was warned by his wife in time to escape. The officers reached the city last night.

I. C. IMPROVEMENTS.

Work Is Being Pushed Rapidly By the Contractors.

Illinois Central Stock-Brakeman Hurt Yesterday.

The work on the Illinois Central river front improvements is being pushed rapidly, but as yet the scrapers ordered by contractors Halloran and Barnes, which have been eight days on the road, have not arrived. The dirt of which the road bed is being built is being taken from the ground only a few feet away at the rate of several hundred square yards a day. The contract calls for a completion in thirty days.

Jerry Bell, a colored brakeman on gravel train No. 600, was painfully injured at Gravel Switch yesterday afternoon by being "whipped" by the engine. His head was badly hurt, and he was brought here on No. 221 for repairs.

Illinois Central stock is quoted to employees during the present month at $97 per share.

This morning a gang of carpenters who have been at work on the depot at Dawson arrived to work on the shop improvements. It is expected that the force will reach thirty or more.

STABBING AFFRAY.

A Murray Tough Cuts a Railroad Man.

Injuries Fatal, and the Would-be Murderer a Fugitive.

Walter Wolfe, a marble cutter, of Murray, and a notorious tough, stabbed Bob Shemwell, a railroad man well known in Murray, while drunk last night.

Particulars are meagre, but it is said that today Shemwell's wounds are fatal, and officers are hot after the would be assassin, who escaped.

TOWN MARSHAL ARRESTED.

But Marshal Grimes Was Straightway Acquitted.

Father of the Wounded Boy Swore Out a Warrant at Metropolis.

Town Marshal Grimes, of Brooklyn, Ill., was yesterday afternoon arrested at Brooklyn by Constable Noah Critchlow, of Metropolis, on a charge of malicious shooting.

The charge was preferred by the father of young Horace Lander, the darkey who was shot twice the day before by the marshal while trying to escape.

The officer was taken to Metropolis, and at once accorded a preliminary hearing, and promptly acquitted. It was conclusively shown that the shooting was done by the marshal in the discharge of his duty.

MISSING NOTES.

Justice Little Finds $800 Worth of Good Ones.

They Were Lost By Attorney Sam Grossland, of Mayfield.

Justice J. H. Little this morning found the book containing over $800 in notes lost here last week by Attorney Sam Grossland, of Mayfield.

Mr. Grossland lost them somewhere in the city and every effort to find them was futile. Justice Little found them in the alley back of his residence, 901 Clark street, where they were evidently thrown by some one who either found them and believed them worthless, or else stole them and came to the same conclusion.

UNLUCKY LIGHTFOOT

Held For Murder in Golconda, Illinois.

HIS BOND FIXED AT $6,000.

The Preliminary Trial Lasted Several Days, and He Gave Bond.

MANY BELIEVE HIM INNOCENT.

Lightfoot's case at Golconda, Pope county, Ill., begins to look more serious for him. As will no doubt be recalled, last week he was arrested on a charge of murdering in cold blood his brother-in-law, Reese Roberts, a wealthy cattle buyer, who was shot down near the house with Lightfoot, while the two were returning from the spring.

Two other men were arrested, but they were both released, and Lightfoot's incarceration followed. The general opinion is that he alone is guilty, and yet he has a great many friends who believe him innocent, and will stand by him and see him out of his trouble.

The preliminary trial lasted several days, and Lightfoot was held to answer, his bond being fixed at $6,000. After some difficulty he succeeded in executing this bond, but it is said he had to mortgage his farm to do it.

Mrs. Roberts, wife of the murdered man, was an attendant at the trial, and according to a drummer on board the packet this morning was at the hotel laughing over the case and saying she was for the man who committed the deed.

The final trial will probably come up the latter portion of this month, an adjourned session of the court to begin on June 28th.

A COLLISION.

A Grand Rivers Mule Attempts a Herculean Task.

The vestibule from Louisville rolled into the union depot at noon minus one set of steps on the baggage car. The steps were knocked off and Grand Rivers by a collision with a mule.

The mule is blind and was in a cut when the train came thundering along. He stood there and meditated a moment or two, and as the sound increased in volume, the beast decided that he would let it pass, and retired to a respectful distance from the track just in time to keep from being struck by the locomotive. He congratulated himself too soon, however, and shaking one ear to dislodge a fly, he backed a foot or two and had the satisfaction of feeling in the region of the South Pole a gentle tap, a tap that turned him upside down for the time being, and at the same instant induced the steps to disengage themselves from the train and remain to keep him company. Conductor O'Bryan says the last he saw of his mulishness he was standing on the track apparently unhurt, kicking heroically at the hind end of the receding sleeper.

DIED IN JAIL.

Unfortunate Woman of Calloway Perished in Prison.

Alice Bradley, in jail charged with infanticide, died Monday at Murray. She had been ill since her arrest, and all that the doctor could do failed to save her life. A long term of imprisonment most probably awaited her.

The deceased was the proud possessor of two coffins before she was buried. The county purchased one, but her relatives did not think it good enough for her and ordered another. The undertaker refused to take back the one furnished by the county as it had been used to some extent.

A PETITION

To Ask Congress for a River Appropriation.

Mr. E. B. Shearer, of New Liberty, Ill., arrived here this morning. He signified his intention of returning to Paducah in a few days to circulate a petition asking congress to make an appropriation to conduct the work necessary to stop the caving in of the river bank on the Ohio above here a few miles. The people of his place have become alarmed and realize that immediate steps must be taken to save their property.

forties equal to or greater than those of the Presidential election, when the size of the vote is considered. Masses and Pulaski counties gave more than two to one Republican majorities. Five of the seven members of the supreme court are Republicans while the Democracy was able to elect in but five of the seventeen circuits. Chicago goes Republican by a good safe majority, showing that with local issues practically eliminated there is no reason to believe there has been a change of sentiment there.

If Chairman Lee of the Popocratic party had made a success as such a chairman, possibly the Republicans would consider the idea of his running both parties. But on account of the dismal failure he has made of it, the Republican party is in better shape than ever before. It is hardly probable they are seeking or would accept advice from him. The "Register" no doubt would like to open up old discussions in the Republican ranks in the hope of deriving some benefit for the rapidly disintegrating Popocracy. But you can't do it, neighbor. The Republicans have learned long ago to reverse the tactics you advise, as their most sensible course. Reserve your advice for your own party. It needs it.

Discontent is growing apace in Germany. There is no country in Europe today in which there is such an undertone of popular muttering and inquietude as in the domains of the Kaiser, who has a peculiar penchant for increasing the irritation of his subjects on every occasion in which he appears in public. Should he live a few years longer it seems highly probable he will have to cope with sentiments as revolutionary and as fully developed as those which led to the overthrow of the French monarchy and the establishment of the republic. The large American-German population, many of who return to the Fatherland to spend their declining years, after having tasted of American liberty, is no doubt an element of considerable importance in spreading the popular discontent.

When it is understood that the equipment of the Greek forces in the recent war was vastly inferior to that of the Turks, there can be little surprise at the disastrous results of the war. The Turks were armed with the Manner rifle which has a range 800 yards greater than the guns used by the Greek army, and fires seven shots without reloading, while the Greek gun must be reloaded at every shot. It is said the field artillery of the Greek army compared even more unfavorably with that of the Turks. The surprise, therefore, is that the Greek army was able to make even as good a showing as it did under the circumstances, against the overwhelming numbers of the Turkish army, which was experienced in war while the Greeks were not. On the whole, the valor of the Greek army has been vindicated.

The claim of the popocrats that they are bimetalists has about as much foundation as would have Belzebub's claim to be a saint. There is no man who will give the matter a moment's thought and who is at all familiar with financial history, but will understand that it would be as impossible to circulate gold and silver together at a ratio of 16 to 1 when their commercial values had a ratio of 32 or 36 to 1, as to mix oil and water. Mr. Bryan understands this as perfectly as anyone. He knows that free-coinage of silver means simply silver monometallism, not bimetalism. Such a system is not wanted by the advocates of it who understand what they want. There ultimate object is a fiat paper currency, and silver was taken up merely as a step in the direction of the desired goal. This, Mr. Bryan has on more than one occasion admitted.

As we have repeatedly said before, the "Register's" unsupported assertion as to the quantity and quality of its circulation is worthless. Let it come down to business and say how many subscribers it has and verify its statements in a way that will carry conviction. The Sun makes these claims boldly and fearlessly. It has the largest bona fide paid circulation of any paper in the city; it has a weekly collection that will compare favorably with that of either of its contemporaries; the quality of its circulation is equal to that of either; it has as small a number of "dead-ends" as either. Now, our published statement is before you; you know what we have; you ought to know what you have. It is an easy matter to decide whether you are on safe ground. If you are not cowardly you will come forward with a statement that has at least the appearance of verity. Put up or shut up.

The United States is the only republic on the face of the globe where there is real liberty in the ideal sense. In no South American republic is the liberty of the citizens valued as here. In France he is even more restricted than in monarchical England. The Frenchman has a very small conception of what real personal liberty, means. Safeguards against violation of the personal rights of the French subject are very meagre. He may be searched at libitum. He may be imprisoned for a long time without cause, merely on suspicion or charges preferred. In America the citizen is a sovereign whose domain may not be invaded with impunity even by an officer of the law, unless he shall have first given good cause to believe him guilty of a violation of the rights of others or of the public. And his right to a speedy trial of charges preferred against him is fully guaranteed by the constitution as in no other country on the face of the globe.

The placing of cotton on the dutiable list at 20 per cent. ad valorem marks an epoch in the history of tariff legislation in this country. The fact that it was so placed on the motion of a southern Democrat is indicative of the change in sentiment which is working in the minds of the southern statesmen. The South is beginning to awake from its lethargy and to see the advantage of laws which increase the consumption of home-grown products and home-made fabrics as against those from foreign lands. The future will never again see the South united in favor of free trade. "The vote upon this side of the chamber seems to be getting smaller and smaller," remarked Senator Vest when the vote of 42 to 19, more than two to one in favor of the amendment, was announced. Six Southern Democrats, Messrs. Bacon, Clay, McEnery, McLauren, Rawlins and Tillman and four Populists, Messrs. Allen, Butler, Heitfield and Stewart, supported the amendment, voting with the Republicans. The debate was the most spirited and interesting yet held in the Senate since consideration of the bill began. Messrs. Vest of Missouri, Chilton of Texas, and three other leading free trade Democrats endeavoring to whip their recalcitrant brethren into line, but without avail. Sparkling sarcasm was plentiful in the discussion which took place between the members of the erstwhile free trade party.

Under flaming, double-column headlines, our morning contemporary publishes an article from a Pittsburgh correspondent which recently appeared in a Bourbon paper on the desperate condition of the miners in the vicinity of Pittsburgh. The condition of these unfortunate laborers is shown to be very bad. They are pictured as actually at the point of starvation. In the course of the article it is said they have had little or no work "for months and months." Now we should like the "Register" to state what party was in power and who was justly responsible for the condition prevailing at the time these miners were thrown out of work? The Republican party has been in power but a few days over three months; they have not yet been able to pass a single measure calculated to revive business or alleviate the condition of these people. The smokeless chimneys all over the land; the silent machinery, the idle factories that were induced by the Wilson law are responsible for their want of employment, as is well known. Had the millions upon millions of dollars worth of goods imported, the product of foreign labor, been substituted by goods produced in our own country, there would have been employment for these men, and their wan faces would not haunt the dreams of the free trade Bourbon press.

AFTER THE EDITORS.

Weyer Casts Them Into Prison and Deports Them.

Terrible Suffering Among the Pa-cificos in Cuba.

Havana, via Key West, Fla., June 8.—Two more reformist anti-minister newspapers have been suppressed by Weyer. Their editors were thrown into local military prisons, and the publisher is to be deported for having refused paper currency at par with silver in payment for subscriptions and advertisements.

At Santa Clara a prominent Chinese merchant was placed in jail yesterday for refusing to accept fiat money in payment for army supplies, and in Cienfuegos two Spanish immigrants are imprisoned upon like charges. A Cienfuegos special to "El Pais" announces the surrender, without arms, to a Spanish outpost near Rodas, of sixty-one Cuban women and children. It is reported that eight of them were afterward murdered. Among the starving reconcentrados in the Pacifico camp at Guines, in Havana Province, there were thirteen suicides yesterday and nineteen deaths from smallpox or fever. Additional military police have been put on guard to prevent the hungry crowd from sacking local stores. Word comes from Sagua la Grande to the effect that the contractors heretofore supplying food to local hospital inmates have suspended the delivery of rations owing to Weyer's refusal to pay silver, and the sick and wounded patients must now depend wholly upon the charity of the citizens. Lieut. Col. Benedicto, who succeeded Fondevila in command of the Spanish guerrilla forces operating around Guanabacoa, is reported to have macheted pacificos near the outskirts of the place last week. A private letter reports over 100 cases of beriberi in Santiago de Cuba hospitals. Despite the menacing attitude of the local Spanish authorities toward destitute Americans who claim official succor from resident Consuls, Gen. Lee continues to distribute relief and to aid the embarkation of destitute citizens desiring to return to the United States. Spanish spies are watching the American Consulate and taking the names or descriptions of all applicants for assistance, the government purposing, if Lee can be detected in succoring any one whose American citizenship can be questioned, or who may have a father, husband or son in the revolution, to lodge immediate diplomatic complaint at Washington.

"El Diario de la Marina" today charges that at Sagua la Grande Consul Barker is distributing food and money to numerous Cubans, mulattoes and Chinamen, who have no legal right to American protection. At Cienfuegos, where Consul McGrath first reported no suffering Americans in his district, over thirty families have since presented themselves at the Consulate, demanding food or transportation.

"THE DUKE'S DAUGHTER."

An Excellent Performance at the Casino.

The Stock Company Becoming Derserved Popular—Greeted By Large and Fashionable Crowds.

Casino Theatre was again packed last night by a large and cultured audience. "The Duke's Daughter," a melodrama in five acts, was presented by the stock company, under the direction of manager H. J. Foppe. It might be said that it was a wise move on the part of the management to substitute melo drama for farce comedy, if only temporarily, but that it cannot ably handle the latter, but because the people seem to better appreciate the former.

"The Duke's Daughter" borders on the romantic, and there are in it some very exciting incidents and thrilling denouements. The story is of a desperate, murderer and outlaw, Pierre Russell, who has always eluded the officers of France, where the scene is laid, until an enormous reward is offered for him, dead or alive. He buys a title, gets in court with the aristocracy and finally discovers in Marguerite Laurent, the beautiful supposed daughter of a peasant and wife of Victor Laurent, the real daughter of Duke De Brandisire Andre, inheriting wealth and title. The action is based on the villain's machinations to separate the girl from her husband and marry her himself.

As "Victor Laurent," Mr. Harry Driscoll fully exemplified his ability as an actor. Of fine face, fine physique, and a splendid voice, Mr. Driscoll has a graceful sincere manner of acting that at once convinces one of his ability. He was complimented by all on his most excellent interpretation and is winning great popularity.

Miss Lillian O. Bowen, the pretty young lady who played "Marguerite Laurent," had a difficult role, and one that required fine emotional acting. She ably and faultlessly handled the part, and proved that the first opinion of her ability as a fine actress was not in the least overestimated. "Pierre Rousel," the outlaw, was well played by Mr. G. W. Wright, whose acting was splendid. His is one of the most fine roles in the cast, but that it was in good hands was evident to all, and evidenced by the applause accorded him.

Miss Nelle McDonough, as "Bridget Doyle," has a part that does not afford her an opportunity to do herself full justice. But whenever she appears, there is always applause, and Miss McDonough's rendition of the Irish woman could not be improved upon.

Manager H. G. Foppe had a dual role last night, the first an important character, at the Ramona Casino last night, that of a post-boy. The next was that of Duke De Brandisire, and an important one, in which his capacities as an actor were well tested and not found wanting.

The character of "Jacques Cosande," an outlaw and accessory of Pierre, was admirably portrayed by young Mr. Fahlbush. Unfortunately, however, the role is one which required the appearance of the talented young man but few times during the performance. Miss Laura Deane, the vivacious little soubrette, had a minor part, which she played so well, however, that everybody regretted that it was not one that required her constant appearance on the stage. She introduced specialties during the performance.

The stage settings were magnificent, and the scenery good. Everything passed off smoothly, and everybody enjoyed the performance. The production has no features of the "blood and thunder" variety, and in the hands of such competent players will improve. It will continue throughout the week, and the crowds will no doubt continue to increase.

NOTES ON SUMMER GOWNS.

What Will Be Worn During the Coming Season.

There is a tendency to skirt trimming like our grandmothers wore. There was a play in Cincinnati not long since, the time of which was the good old days of 1820. Most any of the thin gowns worn by the heroine would be considered highly fashionable now. The fine old buff-colored lawn was covered with large flowers of a deeper hue. The skirt was ruffled clear to the knees. Quaint sleeve caps of double ruffles fell to the elbows.

One of the latest Paris plates shows a skirt made of three deep flounces clear to the waist. Some of the skirts are gathered full down to the hips with several rows of shirring. One was a double skirt, the upper part being graduated into large scallops around the bottom, finished with a full ruffle, giving the effect of an overskirt.

Surely fashion is expecting a recent revolution. There is a perfect rage for the better. Even the skirt waists have ceased to be in any degree mannish, being the daintiest feminine creations of organdie and dimity. One of the most striking displayed at a recent private view of a fashionable modiste, was of dark blue and white striped organdie, with rows of white lace insertion set in the front; with it was worn blue satin ribbon stock with wings of lace at the sides.

Nearly all of the thin materials, aside from the beautiful new plaids, are in large flowered patterns. A most beautiful design seen in one of our large stores was made up of large, highly colored bouzies on a buff-colored ground. This would be very stunning over changeable taffeta, but the daintiest summer maiden would have it made over airy, plain-colored lawn of the same hue.

Many women cling to the silk linings because it sounds rich and they like the rustle. But a younger and really more summery gown is made of organdie with no lining. The patterns are of plain lawns to go with all sorts of organdies, and also a stiff lining of some kind that looks like silk for economically inclined persons. All systematic dressers are laying in the stock of organdies now. The patterns are soon picked over and there is no choice later. One woman says she remembers her experience last year when she wanted a green figured organdie, but thought she would wait until the season was later and prices were down. In the middle of the summer she couldn't get a green organdie in town. Cincinnati Enquirer.

Caprices of Fashion.

Rosettes and knots of ribbon made of five or six small loops, with a small ornamental button in the center, are often placed here and there on the front of the bodice and down the side of the skirt, or, indeed, anywhere the wearer may fancy.

Distinction in dress is a difficult matter with the variety of colored embroideries, lace, and diversity of materials in use this season, but a successful way to attain it is to have a plain costume of some soft color, like gray or brown, and put the note of color in the hat, with an umbrella to match. The full-skirted skirt will be largely used this summer, as it lends itself admirably to the diaphanous fabrics so much worn during the heated term. Some of these skirts are shirred on a cord, gauged to about a finger's depth about the hips, or laid in small flat tucks, the following describing prettily below. Ribbons from four to six inches in width are undeniably claiming first favor as trimming. Valenciennes lace ranking next, then small lingerie tucks. Three ruffles of the goods, or of the lace, arranged separately or in overlapping style, are popular as garniture on skirts. Chicago Record.

Yesterday's Game In Favor of Paducah.

NASHVILLE PLAYED WELL.

In the Eighth Inning Paducah Stacked up Eight Runs.

PADUCAH LEADING TODAY IN FOUR INNINGS

Nashville had the home boys hustling for awhile yesterday and the game was quite exciting until the eighth inning, when Paducah stacked up four runs and was an easy winner.

Pettie, the Nashville star pitcher, and Dowling, Paducah's pet south paw, with Belt and Stanton to backstop, pitched the game. Hits in profusion were made off of both, but the fielding was good.

Dowling brought down the routers when he flew out a two bagger with two men on base and two men out, bringing in two men, and being followed by two more. There was more ginger in yesterday's game than that of the day before, but still there was not enough.

Umpire Ed Boland yesterday signed with the Nashville team, and will, beginning tomorrow, play first base. The games scheduled for Nashville tomorrow have been transferred to Evansville, and will be played there instead.

Boland has been in some of the biggest leagues in the country, having at one time been a catcher of no little repute. He threw his arm out of joint in 1890, however, and was disabled for some time. He has also played in the far West.

N. C. AND ST. L. MILWAUKEE.

Superintendent W. J. Hills left this afternoon for Metamora, Mich. but will be gone but a day or so.

Agent R. S. Hills, of Mercer, Tenn., will remain at his old Michigan home the best part of the summer.

Charles Hills, the store room keeper, had a combat with an agile last night which lasted until a late hour this a. m. He finally conquered.

Mrs. Conductor Will Lewis left on the morning train to pay her leige lord a visit at Beech Bluff. She carried the baby along to see his papa.

The City Hotel, a large and well known house at Union City, Tenn., on the main line of this road was entirely destroyed by fire a few nights ago.

Engine 12, Lowe and Edwards striding her decks, came in early this a. m., got a new pair of truck wheels for 12c each, and was away again for the junction to haul the cannon ball tonight.

Will Hills just back from Michigan, says he never saw such poor prospects for crops in that state before. Too much rain, hail and cold weather.

Lillian, the eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Fisher's little family, met with the misfortune to break her arm by falling from a bench at the residence of her grandpa, Mrs. Berger, day before yesterday.

Switch engine 215, now in the shop, is today receiving the finishing touches under the brush, wielded by Henry Zeiss, the painter, and will look "a thing of beauty and a joy forever" when she takes the tracks again.

Mrs. E. S. Dinguid, of Murray, came in yesterday to visit her brother, Conductor Charles Scott, and to meet her son, Robert, a deaf mute, who is returning from the Danville institution on a vacation.

Myrtle, the little deaf and dumb daughter of Mr. Adair, of the bridge gang, arrived home for the holidays from the Danville school this week. Although but a few months' pupil and entirely ignorant of the sign manual on entering, she now reads and writes the "digit" language as readily as the best of them.

Will Hills, the train dispatcher, returned last p. m. from Metamora, Mich., where he visited his mother, who has been disordered ill for sometime, but has so far improved as to be considered out of danger.

His wife and Mrs. W. J. Hills will remain with her for awhile longer.

White "flagmen" are to be added to the crews on all passenger trains by the 15th. Already the mail trains are carrying these adjuncts, brakemen Moore and Hayden of the freight trains having been elevated to the cushion seats of the ladies' cars.

Geo. Gates the blacksmith's helper, was around yesterday for the first time since he relapsed. He looks thin and puny, but says he is improving and hopes to be able to swing the hammer again next week.

Sam Lowe, for whom Hugh Edwards generates the humidity on the 12, on cannon balls between H. R.
